

BOWIE unzipped

STARRING JEFF DUFF

Rock historian Glenn A Baker's much heralded Duffo quote says it all!

"I don't think it's overstating the case to say that, had Jeff Duff hailed from a country in the top half of the world, he could now be as acknowledged and acclaimed as David Bowie or Lou Reed or Iggy Pop"

Of course it doesn't carry quite the impact of the famous Andy Warhol utterance: "Sinatra, Presley, Jagger, and now Duffo"

On the other hand, Bowie's memorable final quote in 2016, just prior to his passing:

"I don't know where I'm going from here, but I promise it won't be boring," proved sadly prophetic.

Bowie's words, may prove to be true; but none of us mere mortals will ever know until we join him in the afterlife!

Jeff Duff, very much alive and well, continues to channel the spirit of David Bowie, taking inspiration from the legend himself. Long recognised as the closest thing Australian audiences have to experiencing Bowie, Duffo's performances have become a must-see for fans of the iconic artist.

Jeff's personal connection to Bowie is well-documented. During his time in London in the late 70s and early 80s, Bowie was a frequent attendee at Duffo's shows. Their connection deepened upon Jeff's return to Australia in the late 80s, when Bowie discovered they were neighbours in Elizabeth Bay, Sydney—an uncanny twist of fate.

Bowie's official website, 'BowieNet', has consistently championed Duffo's career, offering glowing reviews of his albums and promoting his Australian tours.

With Bowie no longer with us, if you're seeking the next best thing to the 'Thin White Duke', make sure you catch Jeff Duff's upcoming shows with his all-star band. It's an experience you won't want to miss.

"Jeff doesn't try to impersonate Bowie, he simply does his own spectacular thing with the thin white dukes songs"

*"If you closed your eyes, you could believe it was Bowie on stage" – Faster Louder Magazine